

WEF Roundtable

INDIA STANDS IN global spotlight for driving renewable energy transition

AAT News Service

INDIA'S clean energy transition demonstrates that rapid growth, affordability and sustainability can progress together. Flagship initiatives such as PM Surya Ghar Muft Bijli Yojana for rooftop solar adoption and PM-KUSUM for solar-powered agriculture, are expanding clean energy access for households and farmers, and reducing costs, said Pralhad Joshi, Union Minister for New and Renewable Energy.

Underscoring India's leadership in driving a just, affordable and inclusive global energy transition, at the World Economic Forum (WEF) Annual Meeting 2026 Roundtable, with Børge Brende, President and CEO, WEF, in Davos, Mr Joshi said the discussions focussed on the importance of global co-operation in addressing shared economic and developmental challenges, the role of multi-lateral platforms such as the WEF in building global consensus, and the need for sustained dialogue between governments, industry and stakeholders to advance sustainable, resilient and inclusive growth, including across energy and development sectors.

Reaffirming India's commitment to inclusive energy transitions and deeper South-South Cooperation, Mr Joshi said India has played an important role in rapidly-scaling rooftop, agricultural and decentralised renewable energy solutions, particularly relevant for the Global South and mini-grids in improving reliability and resilience in remote and weak-grid regions.

The country will continue sharing practical, scalable solutions through platforms such as the International Solar Alliance, as the global community works collectively towards a resilient and climate-secure future.

Attending the roundtable, Chief Minister of Maharashtra, Devendra Fadnis said, India has taken clean energy initiatives and there have been rapid strides and achievements in the renewable energy sector.

Addressing a session on 'De-risking the green leap: Subnational blueprints for utility-scale energy transition', the minister said India today stands in the global spotlight for driving the global renewable energy transition.

The country's energy transition is being advanced not only at the national level, but also through strong, reform-oriented states translating policy into tangible outcomes. The key challenge in the global energy transition today is not ambition or capital, but effective execution.

Addressing the session titled, 'Call to action: Spotlight on the global mission on AI for energy', Mr Joshi highlighted India's energy transition journey and its relevance for the global community, particularly the Global South. AI has the potential to transform the energy sector. It can improve forecasting, reduce losses, lower costs and strengthen grid reliability.

India has shifted from pilot-based interventions to platform-based deployment through Digital Public Infrastructure for energy, enabling large-scale and systemic adoption of AI-driven solutions.

Cabinet nod for continuation of Atal Pension Yojana

AAT News Service

THE Union Cabinet approved the continuation of Atal Pension Yojana (APY) up to FY 2030-31, along with extension of funding support for promotional and developmental activities and gap funding.

Implementation strategy – The scheme will continue up to FY 2030-31 with government support for promotional and developmental activities to expand outreach among unorganised workers including awareness, capacity building; gap funding to meet viability requirements and ensure sustainability of the scheme.

Major impact – Ensures old-age income security for millions of low-income and unorganised sector workers; enhances financial inclusion and supports India's transition to a pensioned society; and strengthens the vision of Viksit

Bharat@2047 by providing sustainable social security.

APY was launched on May 9, 2015 with the objective of providing old-age income security to workers in the unorganised sector. It offers a guaranteed minimum pension of ₹ 1,000 to ₹ 5,000 per month starting at the age of 60 years, based on contributions. As of January 19, 2026, over 8.66 crore subscribers have been enrolled, making APY a cornerstone of India's inclusive social security framework.

Sustained government support is essential for continued awareness, capacity building and bridging of viability gaps to ensure the scheme's sustainability.
